Surrounded in Field Negro Surrenders.

Surrounded by a sheriff's posse composed of twenty-five men, armed with shotguns, and finding resistance useless before such overwhelming odds, Mack Jones, colored, charged with the murder of Murray Jones, also colored, Tuesday afternoon, surrendered to the authorities after employing clever tactics to effect his escape from the cornfield on the farm of Mr. Hal Woodford, on the Winchester pike at the edge of town, in which he had concealed himself following the killing.

The information concerning the location of Jones was obtained through the capture of a colored boy who had been carrying meals to the negro in the field. The boy was taken into custody by Deputy Sheriff J. O. Marshall, after he had received information that the boy was seen to enter the field from the negro suburb, of Claysville. At first he denied any knowledge of the whereabouts of the fugitive, but later gave the officers the desired information and the posse was immediately formed and a strong guard thrown around the field to prevent his escape.

The officers sent for the bloodhounds of Captain Mullikin, in Lexington, and it was their intention to turn them into the field, but the negro was taken before the arrival of the dogs. Jones was said to be heavily armed and it was reported that he had said he would not surrender without a battle. When taken into custody he was without a weapon.

Shortly after the arrival of a number of the posse, Jones, seeing himself in a dangerous position, perhaps thought escape would be better than a battle and was evidently concealed in the corn a short distance from the road, when the men arrived. Stationing themselves on the west side of the cornfield, some distance apart, a close watch was kept by the members of the posse and the negro, thinking, perhaps, there was no guard in the road, made an attempt to escape, which would have been successful had not Deputy Sheriff Ernest Martin with an automobile containing several armed men, put in his appearance, the moment the negro made the dash for the road.

The men in the automobile saw the movement, and the negro took refuge under a clump of bushes in the corner of the field. He was covered by half a dozen shotguns and ordered to come out. He protested his innocence, and claimed he was not the man wanted, and said he had left him concealed in the field only a few minutes before. However, he was landed in jail, and witnesses to the shooting were secured, who identified him as the man who murdered Murray Jones. Later he admitted having fired the fatal shot. He was taken before Judge Denis Dundon and his examining trial set for Monday morning.

The killing, of which Jones is accused, occurred Tuesday afternoon about four o'clock, in Griffith's woods, in the southeastern suburb of Paris, and was the result of a difficulty over a game of cards. A number of negroes were in the game, which was being played for money and according to eye witnesses to the affair, was entirely unprovoked on the part of the murdered man.

The victim, it is said, took the place of Jones, who had retired from the game, and was playing cards with several companions. Jones, returning, demanded his place but his remarks were not heeded, and without warning he fired the contents of a shotgun into the side of his victim, who was kneeling on the ground.

After the shooting the gun was handed to a man who took it to the home of Betty Scott, in Claysville, who was told to sell it and keep the proceeds. The negro who did the shooting left the scene with his companions.

The charge from the gun took effect in the groin of the victim, and when found was helpless. He was suffering intense pain, but gave the officers a description of the man who fired the shot. The injured man was removed to the home of a colored woman in Claysville where he died Tuesday evening about 6 o'clock.

It is said the negro murderer had previously killed a man at a construction camp on the L. and N. He is well known in police circles, having been arrested recently after a desperate fight with Patrolman Fred Link, during which the officer used his club freely in an effort to subdue him.

Coroner Rudolph Davis will hold an inquest tomorrow morning, and a number of witnesses having been summoned who were eye-witnesses to the affair. The remains of the negro were buried in the Paris colored cemetery yesterday morning.

Paris Boy Killed by Train.

Elmer Smith, of this city, aged 18 years, was killed at Butler at 2 o'clock Tuesday morning when he fell beneath the wheels of a freight train which it is believed he attempted to board. The news of his death reached his family in this city Tuesday morning.

Smith, who was the son of Mrs. Ida Smith, resided on Fifteenth street, in this city, had been employed with a section crew on the Louisville & Nashville railroad, was en route to Covington to visit relatives and with a view of securing employment for the winter. At Butler he alighted from the train and was not seen again until his mangled remains were found by a switchman.

It is the opinion that in attempting to board the train he fell beneath the wheels and was ground to death. His brother, George Smith, an engineer on the L. & N., was notified of the accident, and the family went to Covington Tuesday night, where the remains had been taken to the home of a brother residing in that city.

Farm, Consisting of About 137 Acres.

Said farm lies on the south of Millersburg, about one half mile from town on the east side of the Lexington and Maysville turnpike; the L. & N. railroad running along west side. This is one of the most desirable farms in the county. It has on it a two-story brick house, with new roof and is in good condition; a tobacco barn and warehouse, with plank floor and good tobacco screw; stable, corn crib, buggy house, chicken house, smoke house and splendid ice house, three cellars; also tenement house, two cabins, and the best spring in the county, and two other fields with never failing water. IN THE JUNGLES OF MALAY

Hunter of White Rhinoceros Has Dangerous Foe to Contend With—Animals Attack Man.

Singapore.—Of the three great islands of the Malay peninsula, as a big game resort, Sumatra is said to be the best, Borneo the worst. In Sumatra all the great mammalian varieties are to be found, the tiger, the elephant, rhinoceros, tapir, orang-outang and siamang. In Java, the elephant, tapir and orang-outang are missing, but the rhinoceros and tiger are represented.

In Borneo all these large animals are unknown now, though doubtless they existed there in former days. Sumatra offers less inducements to the general order of visitors than the other two mentioned above for several reasons.

The Shikari will find the traveling very bad in such regions as have no roads. For hours, sometimes, he will have to wade waist deep in slimy slush, not infrequently finding himself, like the Irishman in the story, "up to the ankles in mud," but, as he forgot to mention, "head downwards." Added to this, he must be prepared to view everything through a perfect haze of mosquitoes. Such is the home of the white rhinoceros, and thither the hunter must venture who wishes to get a shot at him. This, it may be remarked, is by no means synonymous with bagging his pachydermatous majesty. Indeed, he oftener than not turns the tables on his pursuer.

This monster is said to be the only animal that will attack man unprovoked, and considering that, unwieldy though he looks, he can go as fast as a horse, the encounter is no joke. The retreating hunter's best course is to seek safety up a tree; though, unless it is a pretty stout one, this will not better his position much. Even if it is, he may be "treed" there for a considerable time. Unless a European is quite fever-proof and provided with special firearms, this branch of sport is better left untried.

Monkeys abound in endless variety in all these islands, but especially in Borneo. The peacocks, pigeons of various kinds, and a very handsome pheasant, also several water birds, waders and lovely kingfishers. There are said to be no less than 240 species of land birds known to inhabit this island of Java, while at least 40 are peculiar to it. On the other hand, no less than 16 genera found in the adjacent island are absent from this one. Rhinoceroses, leopards, wild dogs and other small game are to be met, and deer are abundant, but there are no antelope or goats.

NEW CURE FOR LOCKJAW

Baltimore Physician's Treatment Successful in Nine Cases He Has Tried.

Baltimore, Md.—The survival of Bernard Myerly, nine years old, a victim of lockjaw resulting from a stone-bruise, has increased interest in the method of treatment used in the case of Dr. Pearce Kintzing. This is the ninth of a series of lockjaw cases in which Dr. Kintzing and his assistants at the Franklin Square hospital have used a new plan of treatment with success.

The Myerly boy, as well as the other victims of the disease, had serious attacks, marked by stiffness of the neck, locking of the jaws and convulsions. The remedy is a solution of phenol of ten per cent. strength, diluted to suit the cases and administered by hypodermic injections deep into the muscles.

The injections are made at intervals of about three hours at the start, with longer intervals as the patients rallied. The full adult dose used is equivalent to about one grain of pure crystalline phenol, ten drops of the ten per cent. solution. To avoid soreness, in some cases one-half of the solution diluted is injected and then the other half injected in another place.

Oppression.

Further evidence of how the multi-millionaire woolen trust magnates "protect" their employees in return for sufficient protection to allow them to overcharge 90,000,000 American consumers on every article of clothing they buy, is revealed in the arrest in Lawrence, Mass., of William M. Wood, head of the woolen trust.

Mr. Wood is charged with placing dynamite in the homes of his $5, $6 and $7 a week foreign millworkers in an attempt to discredit their cause while they were on a strike last winter as a protest against a reduction of their wages.

Mr. Wood's arrest is worthy of the attention of every man, woman and child in the country who wears woollens. Because of the fact that Mr. Wood and his fellow woolen trust magnates contribute heavily to Republican campaign funds, Congress has been in the habit of placing the tariff on woollens high enough to keep out all competition so that the woolen trust could be free to charge any price they desired, up to the limit of the ability of the people to pay. The result is that Americans are paying from thirty to one hundred per cent. more for woolen clothing and blankets than the residents of Great Britain pay.

The story of the career of Mr. Wood provides a curious paradox. He is the oppressor of 150,000 miserable New England textile workers. A few years ago he was one of them. In his youth he felt the sting of hunger himself, but now he is so pitiless in his thoughts of his employees. He has grown enormously rich, but declares that from $4 to $9 a week is enough for those who labor in his mills.

It is said of many captains of industry that they are ignorant of the conditions of the workers who earn their fortunes for them; that if they knew the distress of their employees they would seek to remedy it. Not so with Wood. He knows. Their distress he sees. Their cries he hears.

Wood's father was a Portuguese-Jew emigrant. He abored in a cotton mill and died of tuberculosis, a disease common to cotton and wool spinners. The father's name is believed to have been Alphonse LeHair, or LeVair.

When the woolen mills employees, which are composed of 42 different nationalities, most of whom cannot speak in English, went on strike the fathers and mothers decided to send their babes and little children away to friends that they might not suffer from hunger during the strike. Mr. Wood's agents beat the women, and tore their little ones from their mothers' arms when the children were about to be placed on trains. Thus did Mr. Wood "protect" his employees.

Are the American people willing to continue to contribute to Mr. Wood by paying more for shoddy than good woolen clothing sells for in England? Or do they want the tariff on woollens reduced? There is only one day every two years when the consumers have an opportunity to express themselves on this subject. That day comes on November 5.

Roosevelt Overlooks Himself

Mr. Roosevelt declares that Barnes, Penrose and Guggenheim work hand in hand with the big interests. This is all true. How about Mr. Roosevelt himself?

It was not at the solicitation of Barnes and Penrose and Guggenheim that Edward H. Harriman raised a political corruption fund of $260,000. It was at the solicitation of Theodore Roosevelt.

It was not Barnes and Penrose and Guggenheim who, according to Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, bucked the Pure Food Law. That was done by Theodore Roosevelt.

It was not Barnes and Penrose and Guggenheim who failed to bring the machinery of the law into play to send George W. Perkins to the penitentiary for violating the Sherman Law in organizing the illegal harvester trust, and who then accepted Perkins' millions to run for a third term for President. That was Theodore Roosevelt.

Speaking of Remark.

After all, the real significance of the vote in Vermont recently was not the size of the Bull Moose vote or the heavy inroads it made into the regular Republican vote, but the splendid showing made by the Democrats, who, in round figures, increased their strength from 16,000 in 1908 to 20,350 in 1912. This means that the party not only stood solid as a rock also, but united, but it drew to itself a large Republican vote.

Wilson and Tariff.

Governor Wilson has indicated in the speeches he has made thus far in the campaign that he attaches a great deal of importance to the question of the tariff as it affects farmers. The Democratic candidate put this whole question into a nut shell when he said:

"The farmer does not derive any benefits from the tariff when he goes to market to sell his product, but on everything the farmer buys there is an artificially high price, due to the tariff tax."

High protection in Congress have for many years deceived the farmers into believing that, because the tariff is kept on wheat and corn the corn is necessarily benefitted thereby. That this is false logic is apparent to any student of American import and export statistics. This country produces more wheat and corn than the American people consume, which obviously makes it impossible for any foreign country to sell wheat or corn here. Europe, which is the great market for surplus American grain, uses all the grain produced there for home consumption, and in addition, the European countries have to send over here for more. If there were no tariff at all on grain, therefore, the American farmer would not be mentioned by the possibility of foreign competition, for the reason that foreigners have no grain to sell.

But the question is vastly different with the farmer when he comes to buy the tools, machinery, clothing and other necessities of life. He finds every article that he uses in producing his crops taxed higher and higher, until, as Governor Wilson says, "it is getting next to impossible for the American farmer to make a legitimate profit." The farmers' implements, their smaller tools, household articles, lumber, and harvesting machinery has steadily risen in price.

That this rise has been due to artificial causes is proven by the fact that the identical articles used by the American farmer are sold abroad for from 25 to 40 per cent less. B. D. Townsend, in his report to President Roosevelt on the Harvester Trust, said that the same harvesting machines that were made by the trust in Chicago, and sold to the American farmer for $125, are sold in Russia for $80 and $90. Nothing but the tariff enables the trust to thus rob the American farmer, because, if it were not for the tariff the danger of competition from Canada would force the American trusts to sell its machines for one price to all.

Governor Wilson has shown a deep grasp of the tariff question as it affects the farmer, and it is certain that before the campaign is much older he will have some illuminating things to say to the farmer on this vital subject.

If you knew of the real value of Chamberlain's Liniment for lame back soreness of the muscles, sprains and rheumatic pains, you would never wish to be without it. For sale by all dealers.

WOMEN TAKE NOTICE!

A man cannot understand the torture and suffering many women endure uncomplainingly. If the majority of men suffered as much pain and endured with patience the weakening sicknesses that most women do, they would ask for immediate sympathy and look for a quick cure.

Many women have been saved from a life of misery and suffering by turning to the right remedy—Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—a remedy which is safe to take because containing no narcotics, alcohol or injurious ingredients. It is an alternative extract of roots, made with pure glycerin, and first given to the public by that famous specialist in the diseases of women—Dr. R. V. Pierce, of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y.

Mrs. Hessemer.

Mrs. Lizzie M. Hessemer, of Lincoln, Neb., 533 "C" St., says: "I send a testimonial with much pleasure so that some suffering woman may know the true worth of your remedies. I was a great sufferer from female troubles but after taking one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which a friend advised me to take, I found myself very much improved. After taking three more bottles, and using two boxes of Dr. Pierce's Lotion Tablets, I found myself on the road to recovery. I was in poor health for five years but now I am cured."

"I hope all women suffering from female weakness will give Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription a fair trial."

Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules.

To 40,000 Burley Tobacco Growers Stockholders in Strater Bros.' Branch Factory

Here are ten brands of tobacco. All of you know their worth, for you supply the leaf. It comes from your own tobacco farms. Most of you smoke or chew one of these brands, for they represent the cream of your crops. You know of none better, none richer, and you know that each sale brings a profit to you. You are partners in each of these brands. Here's a way to increase your profits on each.

40,000 Partner-Salesmen

We want 40,000 more salesmen and you, Mr. Grower, are one that we want. We want you to work with us, to help sell these brands, and thus increase your revenue from them. Your cooperation, individually, can result in gigantic sales. Here's how it works out.

Let Each Man Tell Ten Friends

Let each of you growers tell ten friends what you know of Strater Bros.' Branch Brands, the brands for which you grow the leaf. Always keep one of these brands in your pocket and give to these friends to try. Explain that the leaves were the pick of your crop and that no better crops are grown. Point out the reasons why these brands of tobacco should be every smoker's and chewer's choice since it is your choicest growth. 40,000 men, each telling ten friends, will thus get a powerful sales message to nearly 400,000. If each of these friends tell five others, nearly 2,000,000 men are affected. Think what an increase this would make on these brands in one section. You are selling to us. We are selling to them. So let us work jointly to sell the utmost that we can.

Tell Dealers, Too

Tell dealers, too, when you buy these brands, what you know of their quality. Let them know of their nationwide popularity, how they repeat, and how they make friends of consumers.

BE A BOOSTER OF BURLEY GROWERS' BRANDS, thus boosting the sales and your profits.

TO ALL DEALERS WHO SELL TOBACCO

These brands of tobacco are famous sellers as all who sell them know. They are made from the best, from the cream of the crops, from forty thousand farms. They form the greatest repeaters known, a steady source of profit. Put them into your stock for a trial and see what they do. You will sell them for years if you sell them one week.

NEW SPHINX FOUND

Student of British Museum Discovers It in Egypt.

Cairo, Egypt. — Another sphinx, weighing ninety tons, and carved from a single block of alabaster, has been unearthed at a point between the world-famed Colossi, on the water-logged plains of Memphis, in Egypt. For hundreds of years it has lain in a recumbent position buried beneath the sands on the road to Sakkareh. Today it is half-exposed to view, and next year it is to be raised to a vertical position above the water-line.

This newly found sphinx was betrayed in its hiding place by its tail, which Mr. Mackay, one of the students of the British School in Egypt, discovered about a year ago. This year, when the water on the plain subsided, the complete figure was excavated, and was found to measure some fourteen feet in height and twenty-six feet in length. Alabaster being a rock foreign to the neighborhood, the new sphinx ranks as the largest that has ever been transported. The figure bears no inscription, but is considered by Prof. Flinders Petrie, the director of the British School in Egypt, to have been carved about 1300 B. C. Many other remarkable discoveries, taking the mind back as far as 5500 B. C., and lifting the veil of centuries from Egypt's romantic story, have also been made by the same school, and, with the exception of a red granite group of Rameses II and the god Pthah, which will be sent direct to the Ny Carlsberg Museum at Copenhagen, and a few other details, are now on exhibition at University College, Gower street. They include many objects quite new to Egyptologists.

Among these are coffins made of basket work, reeds or withes, sandals, an axe handle, in which the grip is composed of delicately knotted string, a pot of unburnt incense for a fire-offering of 4000 B. C., and numerous pieces of timber, showing by their formation the principles of building construction that were in vogue nearly 6000 years B. C.

The graves of the early Egyptians were always well provided with such necessities as were thought essential for the spirit of the departed when it again materialized. Consequently, the relics from Tarkhan include headrests (some of them carved out of trees trained specially into peculiar shapes), sandals, large jars of food, and various vessels of gypsum and semi-transparent alabaster. Some of the vases bear the name of Mena, the earliest known Egyptian king. They are considered by some experts to be a tribute corresponding to the modern floral wreath. Evidence is also provided of the lack of historical sentiment in the Roman occupants of Egypt by numerous examples of inscribed Egyptian tablets that have been used as hearth stones, door lintels, and mill stones. There is also ample evidence of the belief that sacrilege among the tombs was more common in the earlier periods of Egyptian history than in later periods.

HAS MARRIED 4,000 COUPLES

Tennessee Minister Builds Hotel Especially for Eloping Couples.

Bristol, Tenn.—Rev. Alfred Harrison Burroughs of Bristol, now in his eightieth year, has married 4,000 couples in the last twenty-three years. "I had no thought of making this a business," said the aged minister. "I was licensed to marry people many years ago, and when the first runaway couple sought me in 1889, I consented to marry them more as a matter of accommodation than anything else."

"Some of my friends were present and witnessed the marriage. They complimented me and told me that I ought to make marrying a business. After that I did not decline to offer my services whenever a couple came my way. Month by month the business grew until I sometimes married from three to six couples a day."

So rapidly did the minister's marrying business increase that he built a hotel designed especially to accommodate eloping couples.

New Wrinkle in Laundry.

San Bernardo, Cal.—When his laundry bill showed a charge for washing four greenbacks, George B. Rowan gasped in astonishment. He looked through his laundry and found a pile of carefully ironed and starched banknotes which had come home with his weekly wash. They amounted to $60, which he remembered having failed to remove from his clothing before sending it to the laundry.

STOCK, CROP AND FARM NOTES.

—Government experts offer the hope that efforts under way will eradicate Texas fever ticks, a pest which causes an annual loss of from forty million to one hundred million dollars.

—The work of eradicating the disease of scabies from among the sheep of Kentucky has progressed so favorably that the disease is now almost entirely wiped out.

—According to reports made by the Department of Agriculture, between 15,000 and 20,000 acres of cotton has been damaged in Arkansas by the cotton caterpillar.

—The Kentucky State Fair ended its 1912 show Saturday night, the attendance for the week being considerably in excess of last year, it is declared. Officials of the Fair say they are greatly pleased with the success of the Fair this year.

—The Kentucky State University at Lexington has announced that chicken breeding will be added to its curriculum. A farm near Lexington has been purchased where the science of the hen will be studied by the students of the school.

—The tobacco growers of Madison county are securing every available hand in an effort to get their crops cut and housed before a much needed general rain sets in and spoils the crop. It is the best in quantity in many years. Help is said to be scarce and much needed by the farmers.

—Nicholas county farmers in the Licking neighborhood, who have been growing tomatoes in the place of tobacco, have a bumper crop. The tomatoes are now being gathered and canned. Two large canneries have been installed and are now running at full capacity.

—Mr. Renick Smith, of Dallas, Texas, who has been visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Renick, for several weeks will leave to-day for Front Royal, Virginia, to enter Randolph Macon Academy. His mother, Mrs. Curtis P. Smith, will be with her parents for a week longer before returning to Texas.

—Ormond Summerville, the eight-year-old son of Judge Summerville, of Montgomery, Ala., was operated on for appendicitis at the Good Samaritan Hospital Saturday night. The boy was visiting Dr. and Mrs. J. T. Vansant when he was stricken ill Sunday afternoon, and was rushed in an automobile to the hospital.

—The sixteen head of thoroughbred yearlings owned by Frank E. Brown and sold Saturday morning for the Kentucky Sales Company, brought a total of $57,650, or an average of slightly over $3,603 a head. The youngsters were bred by James R. Keene at Castleton and represented the last crop of yearlings bred by Mr. Keene at the historic establishment.

—A fire which originated in a hay field on the farm of Mr. Dunn, adjoining, swept over the bluegrass pasture of Kingston Stock Farm in Fayette and for a time threatened to destroy the residence and numerous barns and imperil the valuable thoroughbred horses kept upon the place by Maj. F. A. Dingerfield, member of the State Racing Commission, who leases the farm and makes his home there.

—Hart Wallace, of Shelby county, has sold his herd of sixty Ayrshires to J. H. Wright and T. R. Webber, who will sell them at auction in the near future. The price was private. Included in the sale are Old Hall Sarah II, imported, which won the grand championship for females and first premium in the ring for aged cows at the State Fair. Seventeen cows in the herd have average tests of 9,863 pounds of milk and 454 pounds of butter a year.

—A big dairy barn and two large silos on the farm of Dr. B. McClarkey, near Scott's Station, in Shelby county, were destroyed by fire with all the contents. The fire originated in the loft from some unknown cause. None of the cattle were in the barn at the time. The barn was built two years ago by Hart Wallace at a cost of $4,000. The loss is about $5,000 with insurance in the Home Company for $3,000 on the building and $1,000 on the contents.

—At a meeting of the board of directors of the Burley Tobacco Company at the Strater Brothers branch factory in Louisville Tuesday, it was decided to erect a modern, fireproof loose leaf warehouse of suitable capacity at Brooksville, Bracken county, in accordance with plans submitted and accompanying a petition signed by more than 100 tobacco poolers of that county. The petition received the endorsement of the subcommittee appointed to look into conditions at Brooksville, which committee visited the proposed site for the warehouse a short time ago.

—Commissioner J. W. Newman of the Agricultural Department has issued the following report for the month of September:

"The report on corn as of September first, shows an improvement, and indicates a yield of 92.8 per cent as against 84.5 per cent for the month of August, an increase of 8.3 per cent. Dark tobacco shows a condition of 81.6 per cent and Burley is even better, showing a condition of 87.5 per cent. Out of a total crop yield in Kentucky of a money value of $110,000,000, the corn and tobacco crops represent $88,000,000. The conditions reported indicate splendid yields of the largest money valued crops of the State."

"The second crop of potatoes shows an acreage of 90.7 per cent with a condition of 97.7 per cent. An acreage of 96.7 per cent of cow peas and 91.7 per cent of soy beans, with a condition of cow peas of 94 per cent and for soy beans of 91.7 per cent, shows that the Kentucky farmer is beginning to appreciate the value of these two legumes in his crop rotation."

"The pasture conditions continue splendid, a condition of 99.6 per cent is reported, as does the condition of gardens, which is 95.7 per cent."

"Taken as a whole, indications are for a better crop for 1912 than has been shown at any time during the crop year."

Writ Granted In Hamilton Case.

A writ of habeas corpus, restraining Mr. J. G. Graham, an official of the Orphan's Home, at Louisville, from removing from the custody of the Bourbon Circuit Court, Carey Hamilton, of this county, was granted by Judge Denis Dundon Tuesday.

The fight for the possession of the child is being waged by its father, and the case involves the right of Mr. Frank Bedford, a wealthy farmer of Bourbon county to the possession of the child, resulting in Judge Robt. L. Stout, in the Circuit Court, entering an order returning it to the Children's Home.

The father of the boy is seeking to gain possession of the child, and took an appeal to the higher court, where the case is now pending. After the decision handed down by Judge Stout it is said that it was agreed that the child should remain in the custody of its father until such time as the officials of the ome should send for him.

Mr. Graham came to Paris for the purpose of returning the boy to the Home. Hearing of the intended move Mr. Hamilton, through his attorneys, ask that the writ be issued restraining the official of the Home. The writ was granted, returnable this morning, and the child was placed in the custody of Deputy Sheriff W. F. Talbot, who allowed him to return with Mr. Graham to Louisville to return in time for the trial today.

The Christian Woman's and Orphans' Home is represented by Hon. E. M. Dickson, and the interests of Mr. Bedford are being looked after by the law firm of Talbot & Whitley, while Mr. Hamilton is represented by Attorneys J. J. Williams and Reuben Hutchcraft.

In Danger Without License.

Sportsmen who expect to get through the bird season this fall without a hunter's license by escaping the vigilance of the State authorities will be disappointed, for at the next meeting of the Fish and Game Commission, Executive Agent J. Q. Ward will recommend two of his county game wardens to be appointed with roving commissions. They will inspect those counties in which game wardens have not yet been appointed and will act unerringly on orders. Over 5,000 licenses have been issued and it is expected that the next six weeks will see more than double that number issued.

Several more game wardens have been appointed by the commission, including J. D. Driscoll, H. C. Hikes and Daniel T. Nagle, Jefferson county; George Brandel, Hancock; Amos Hogg, Carter; P. M. Melvin, Carter; D. C. Nelson, Floyd; W. C. Price, Lee; A. M. Winn, Graves; James M. Leech, Caldwell, and Elijah Roberts, Breathitt.

It is probable that Executive Agent Ward or some member of the commission will go to Washington soon to see about the distribution of game fish for Kentucky streams. Securing the allotment involves a vast amount of red tape. Petitions for the fish must originate in the counties and be recommended by the Congressman from the district in which the counties are located.

Executive Agent Ward is mailing out petitions which will be signed in each county and then forwarded to the Congressman for their signatures, after which the commission will send the petitions to the department at Washington.

Two prominent men interested in the conservation of game will speak before the commission at its next meeting. They are John B. Burnham, of New York, president of the American Game Protection and Propagation Association, and Joseph Kalbfus, of Harrisburg, Pa., connected with the Pennsylvania Game and Fish Commission. Executive Agent Ward heard them both speak at the conference of Fish and Game Commissioners at Denver, and they promised they would come to Kentucky.

Buick Car Gruelling Test.

That the Buick cars are capable of withstanding the most gruelling tests is shown by the recent trip by the machine owned by Mr. Clarence Thomas, of this city, when in company with Mr. O. L. Davis, George Varden and John Yerkes he made a trip of over 1,100 miles through the States of Kentucky, Ohio, Michigan, New York and Pennsylvania, without a single mishap, other than a few punctures.

On the trip the party passed through Dayton, Springfield, Toledo, Detroit, Mt. Clemens, Windsor, Can., Niagara, Erie, Cleveland and Columbus. Upon the return after the long trip, the car driven by Mr. Thomas was in as good running order as on the first day of the trip.

Aside from the few punctures which are likely to be encountered at any time, there was not a moment's delay on the road by reason of the failure of the car to perform its duty.

In many places, according to the members of the party, the roads were almost impassable, but even in the face of such unfavorable conditions the machine performed in a most satisfactory manner, adding a great deal of pleasure to the trip, which might have been marred had faulty mechanism been embodied in the car.

DR. DOLLE'S MESSAGE TO MEN
YOU CAN BE CURED BY

Why Take Treatment That Is Doing You No Good, When a Few Days under the care of Dr. Dolle will show you how easy it is to cure these diseases when the proper treatment is administered.

Have you treated for months and years, and been disappointed until you think that you cannot be cured? You, no doubt, all this time have been treated by inexperienced doctors who had neither sufficient knowledge nor experience to know how to cure you.

These are the diseases of which I have cured so many, justly giving me the reputation for cures of which I am so proud.

Blood Diseases, Skin Diseases
I will give you treatment that will in a few days cure all rash, spots and every skin symptom. My treatment gets the poison out of the system instead of driving it in like ordinary treatments. I cure blood diseases and skin disease so they cannot come back.

Varicose, causing aching or pain in groin or back, Nervousness, Weakness, Loss of Vitality, Lack of Ambition—

My one-treatment cure is what you should have and what you will have to have to be cured right. Only one visit is required. I do no cutting and you suffer no pain nor trouble. All signs disappear in a few days.

Nervous Troubles, Lost Vitality
My combined treatment for these troubles so common among those who have become weak and worn out, who have caused it by folly, dissipation and excesses, is remarkably good. No one believes how quickly it benefits until they have taken it. It overcomes weakness, nervousness, pain in back, lack of energy, ambition and strength—it's just the treatment I have found so effective in treating such diseases.

Kidney and Bladder Troubles are scientifically cured by me. My methods immediately benefit you, and the majority of cases I cure come from physicians and specialists who failed.

Piles, Fistulae—I can cure you so quickly and easily that you will be surprised. I will give you just the result and cure you are looking for without a surgical operation.

Acute Diseases—Itching, Burning remedies seldom cure. My treatment stops every symptom and cures in a few days. It is scientific—that's the only sure way to be cured so it will not come back.

You can take my treatment without a cent and pay me after I cure you. I know that I can give you new life, new hope, and can restore you back to health and happiness. I know that every man will pay after I have eliminated every trace of disease from his system. Microscopical and analytical analyses FREE. I have written a book that ought to be in the hands of every suffering man in this country. I will send you a copy, free, if you will write me at once the disease for which you desire treatment.

Hours, 9 to 4: Sundays, 9 to 1 p. m. Evenings, 7 to 8 on Monday, Wednesday and Saturday nights.

INSECT DOING CONSIDERABLE DAMAGE TO PEAR ORCHARDS IN EASTERN STATES

Productiveness of Many Trees in Fruit Growing Sections Has Been Greatly Reduced by Thrips, a New Pest—Most Effective Control Is Spraying.

(By P. J. PARROTT.)

For a number of years pear blossoms in orchards in the state of New York and other parts of the east have blighted, resulting in more or less extensive losses in fruit yields.

Careful studies during the past year have shown that the injury is caused by the pear thrips, a new orchard pest, which has attracted considerable attention in recent years in California because of its destructiveness to various deciduous fruits.

The adult thrips, which is largely responsible for the injuries to the trees, is a small, darkish brown, winged insect measuring about one-twentieth of an inch in length. It appears in destructive numbers when the buds are opening, attacking the tenderest of the flower parts. The eggs are mostly deposited beneath the epidermis of the blossom and fruit stems. Hatching takes place within a few days, and the larvae seek preferably the calyx cups, undersides of calyces, and the folds or under surfaces of the tender, expanding leaves. The larvae feed for about two weeks and drop to the ground, in which they form a protecting cell. In this cell the insect completes its transformations and emerges from the ground in the spring as an adult. The thrips is single brooded; and the most active and destructive stages are coincident with the period that includes the life events of the swelling and opening of the buds and dropping of blossoms and calyces.

Injuries by the thrips in the Hudson valley have apparently occurred over a period of five years. During the past three years fruitgrowers generally have noticed blighting of blossom clusters of pear trees, although the nature of the causal agent seems not to have been suspected. According to statements of fruitgrowers the most severe attack of the thrips occurred during 1910, when the pear crop in many orchards was much reduced. Besides losses in yields the trees were seriously checked by injuries to leaf buds and leaf clusters; and in some orchards the season was much advanced before the trees presented normal conditions of growth. The productiveness of pear orchards during 1911 was greater than the preceding year, but blighting of blossom clusters was general and orchards suffered losses in yields according to the severity of the attacks by the thrips.

Severe attacks by the thrips are a serious drain on the vitality and productiveness of the trees. In their weakened state they are also more subject to injuries by adverse weather or environment, and to attacks by various wood-boring insects. The needs of the orchard with respect to cultivation, fertilizers, pruning and spraying for other insects and diseases should be carefully considered in order that the most favorable conditions for recovery to health and productiveness may be afforded to the trees.

The thrips is a difficult pest to combat because of the nature and suddenness of its attacks. Spraying is the most efficient method of control. The period for effective spraying is during the time when the buds are breaking and until they are entirely opened at the tips. The most promising spraying mixtures are the nicotine preparations in combination with kerosene emulsion or soap. Two or three applications on successive days during the past year largely prevented important injuries to pear trees. The physical features of the locations of the orchards, such as the direction and elevation of the slopes of the land, and character of the soil, have a marked influence on the development of the buds and the time of blossoming. The time for effective spraying will therefore vary with individual orchards.

REWARDS OFFERED IN FRUIT GROWING

Great Crops Are Possible When Conditions Are Created to Produce Them.

Fruit growing offers many rewards in the way of great possibilities to those who get the most out of it. The careful planter and the liberal feeder and culturist, as a rule, gets what he is working for.

In all kinds of fruit culture great crops are possible when the circumstances are created to produce them. A well-cared for strawberry plantation, says a writer in Green Fruit Grower, often yields wonderful results; and the same can be said of raspberries, currants, gooseberries, etc., and yet it is not best to engage in fruit culture with that as an incentive. Figure on a fair crop, and if you get a large one, so much the better. I would not be understood to discourage aiming high—not by any means—simply to caution the inexperienced against building on these exceptional yields.

Do not plant too closely, and give what you plant close attention. We know a man who may not be termed a model fruit grower, yet this man makes the most of what he has, and is successful.

Good varieties, good plants, suitable ground, and proper care will produce fine fruit. Economy is very essential to success, and yet one must not be penny wise and pound foolish. There must be thorough work done, and plants must not be crowded. It takes some thought to know just how much work and money to bestow upon a crop to make the most possible profit from it.

It is difficult for the inexperienced to realize the great value of experience in fruit growing. After one has traveled the road he can see the value. To those who are about to establish themselves in this interesting industry, I would say to go slow at first; make small beginnings; gain your knowledge as you go on; study your location and soil so that you will know better than any one just what is possible to accomplish with it.

EXCELLENT STORAGE FOR THE ROOT CROPS

Cross Section of an Easily Constructed Pit for Roots.

E. J. Delwiche of the Wisconsin station makes the following recommendations regarding the storage of roots for feeding purposes:

The best place to store roots is in a root cellar near where they are to be fed. Such a cellar may be a part of a barn, basement, or it may be built conveniently near to the stock barn. In most places the root house can be built most economically of concrete. Ordinarily cement is the only material that has to be purchased. The gravel and sand are usually available at no great distance on most farms. While the temperature in a root house should never fall to the freezing point, it should be at a low point for best results in keeping roots.

When no cellar is available, roots may be stored in pits. For fall and early winter feeding they need not be covered to any great depth. The roots are put in conical pile about four feet in diameter on a bed of clean straw, then covered with a layer of two inches of long straw. Clean rye straw is preferred for this purpose. The straw at the apex of the pile is made to form a chimney five or six inches in diameter for ventilation. Dirt is thrown on the pile to a depth of six inches. The roots are piled as high as possible so as to shed water. When wanted for feeding the whole pit is taken into the barn at once. For early winter feeding the layer of dirt should be thicker, and in addition a covering of straw should be placed over the whole pile.

The illustration shows a pit intended to remain over winter. This provides for two layers of straw and two of earth. A ventilator made of four-inch boards is placed at the apex. When severe freezing weather sets in, the ventilator is stuffed tightly with fine hay. In such a pit roots will keep without freezing even in the coldest winters. If desired, the piles may be made oblong instead of conical in shape, retaining the gable form. While pits do very well, so far as keeping the roots is concerned, it must be understood that they are but makeshifts at best. A root house which is accessible at all times is much more satisfactory and more economical.

Keeping Water Cold.

If you are in the habit of taking a pitcher of iced water to your room on retiring, try this: Procure a square pasteboard box (with lid), sufficiently large to hold your pitcher, and give it two or three coats of varnish on the outside, allowing each coat to dry thoroughly. Place your pitcher of water in this box on retiring, putting the lid on tightly, and you are sure of having cold drinking water any hour of the night.

Repels Altack of Death.

"Five years ago two doctors told me I had only two years to live." This startling statement was made by Stillman Green, Malachite, Col. "They told me I would die of consumption. It was up to me then to try the best lung medicine and I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery. It was well I did, for today I am working and believe I owe my life to this great throat and lung cure that has created the grave of another victim." It is folly to suffer with coughs, colds or other throat and lung troubles now. Take the cure that's safest. Price 50 cents and $1. Trial bottle free at Oberdorfer's.

TEMPLE TO RHODES

Empire Builder's Memorial
Erected on Lion Preserve.

Table Mountain in South Africa is Where the Structure is Built—
Beautiful View is Obtained
From Spot—Made Road.

London.—The memorial erected to Cecil Rhodes on the slopes of Table Mountain is both magnificent and fitting.

The site was always a favorite one with Rhodes, who believed that the view from the eastern spurs of the mountain excelled any other prospect in the world for beauty. He made a broad road to it and placed a seat there. From it a very fine view is obtained of Table Bay in the Atlantic to the north and of Fake Bay in the Indian Ocean to the south, as well as the Cape Flats and the distant mountain ranges stretching for a hundred miles to the east and north.

Not far from this seat it was his intention at one time to build a great temple, as he called it, the object of which was twofold. He intended to make a huge enclosure for his lions, that they might be housed with the greatest possible freedom and amid natural and beautiful surroundings. The idea in his mind was that the lions, enjoying a large range of liberty and magnificently housed, would attract people to the mountainside, where art and nature together at their best must lift them out of themselves and inspire them with lofty thoughts.

Remembering that such had been Rhodes' imaginings on the mountain side, the memorial committee decided that the best form for the monument would be a temple dedicated to himself.

The monument has been built of the granite which forms the natural base of Table Mountain and has been worked to a texture which is not so fine as to be out of scale or harmony with its mountainous surroundings.

In front of the monument is the statue "Physical Energy," by F. Watts, R. A., representing a man reining in his horse after some great deed and scanning the future for his next achievement. It was not designed by Cecil Rhodes Memorial.

Watts especially for Rhodes or his monument, but was presented as a gift to South Africa out of admiration for the genius of Cecil Rhodes.

Suggestions were made to place it elsewhere. But it was Rhodes' dream to make the Cape Peninsula the center of art and beauty in South Africa. It seemed natural, therefore, that this gift of the greatest of English artists should be placed in Rhodes' monument on Table Mountain.

The eight lions, four on either side of the long flight of steps leading up to the portico, are the work of the late J. M. Swan, R. A.

It will pass through Plainfield, Elizabeth, Newark, Hackensack, Jersey City, Bayonne and other cities. At each town there will be brief open air meetings with addresses by women leaders.

DAM BUILDERS USE BEAVERS

New Mexico Company Hopes to Get a Reservoir Without Cost to Them.

Santa Fe, N. M.—The revival of a custom followed by many pioneer ranchmen in the west, that of employing beavers in the building of dams, is announced by the Santa Fe Light and Water company.

The first pair of beavers obtained by State Game Warden Thomas P. Gable will soon be put to work on the Santa Fe dam.

It is expected that the beavers will build a series of small dams along the stream so that water may be conserved during the rainy season.

Dies From Hiccoughs.
New York.—After Hiccoughing for five weeks, George Washington Stewart (colored) has just died at the General hospital.

The implicit confidence that many people have in Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is founded on their experience in the use of that remedy and their knowledge of the many remarkable cures of colic, diarrhoea and dysentery that it has effected. For sale by all dealers.

This Remington Gun has a curve of beauty too!

Sure Safe Shooting for Man or Boy—
And a Simple Rifle to Care For

The Remington-UMC .22 Repeater is rifled, sighted and tested for accuracy by expert gunsmiths. It shoots as you hold. The simple, improved safety device on every Remington-UMC .22 repeater never fails to work. Accidental discharge is impossible.

The Remington-UMC .22 Repeater is easily cared for. In taking down, your fingers are your only tools. The breech block, firing pin and extractor, come out in one piece—permitting the barrel to be cleaned from the breech.

The action handles .22 short, .22 long or .22 long rifle cartridges—any or all at the same time without adjustment.

Studebaker
FLANDERS 20
Automobiles EMF
Two Models

You Want the Best—
Not the Cheapest

Don't be alarmed if somebody tells you you can buy an automobile for less money than the $750 Studebaker-Flanders "20." You can, but you better not. The Flanders "20" corresponds point by point with the best and highest priced cars sold. Cheaper cars at every vital point are built on ideas long ago discarded for good cars. Don't take our word for it. Make comparisons and see.

The Studebaker-Flanders "20" is a marvel—a high grade modern car at a low price. If you pay less you buy much less. And the cheaper car today will cost you far more in the long run. The competing car isn't sold which the Studebaker Corporation, the greatest automobile manufacturers in the world, couldn't reproduce for less money; but we won't build a cheap car, because the name "Studebaker" means the best for your money.

If you are content with a car that runs today and dies tomorrow, don't buy the $750 Flanders "20." It will wear for years. Remember this—the Studebaker-Flanders "20" will outwear 2 to 1 any other car under $1100 and give you double satisfaction, confidence and comfort into the bargain.

We can prove it—Send for new catalogue

The Ebenezer Presbyterian of the Southern Presbyterian Church will convene at the Presbyterian church here, beginning Tuesday night. This meeting promise to be one of unusual interest, inasmuch as the laymen meeting will be held in connection with it. Several celebrities have been invited, among whom is Gen. Bennett H. Young, of Louisville. The Presbytery will open Tuesday evening with a short session. Wednesday will be devoted to the laymen's meeting, with a banquet to the laymen, Wednesday night. Thursday the Presbytery will resume its work, closing Thursday night.

The formal opening of the M. F. C. took place Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock in the College chapel, which was well-filled. The larger part of the audience was made up of ladies. Short addresses were made by Rev. W. A. Swift, retiring pastor of the Methodist church, after which Dr. Fisher, president of the College, made a short talk and some important announcements. Rev. J. D. Redd, the new pastor of the Methodist church, also made a short address. The boarding department of the school is entirely filled, and if others come they must take lodging outside of the College. The domestic science department is one of the new features of the school, and many of the young ladies of the town will doubtless take advantage of this department. The College will also conduct a lyceum concert course, the first number of which will be given in October. The institution is opening under brilliant prospects, and this bids fair to be one of the most successful years from every point in its history.

Fall Festival Next Week.

The Fall Festival, under the auspices of the local tent of Maccabees, will begin Monday. The Kraus Carnival Company, one of the best in the country, has been engaged for the occasion and the week promises to be one great round of pleasure.

This year, as in each year past, the Kraus Carnival Company has added new attractions and surprises for the public, found and perfected only by great labor, patience and skill and with the outlay of a great deal of money.

The repertoire of new ideas and novelties advanced are above the old stereotyped carnivals of a few years ago. The new attractions, new riding devices, the new fun factories are of the most unique and sensational absolute from all others and are receiving enthusiastic praise from the press and public. The motto of the Kraus Shows has ever been: "Cleanliness and Morality," and this season it will be no exception to the rule. Nothing of a rough or rowdy nature is permitted on the carnival grounds.

The free attraction will be Miss Emma Maier, the champion lady swimmer of the world who will give an exhibition of fancy swimming and diving after which she will mount a ladder 75 feet in the air and dive into a tank containing three and a half feet of water. Miss Maier is said to be the most daring lady in the world.

Miss Maier will give her exhibition of swimming and diving afternoon and evenings, during the week.

G. R. Keller Succumbs After Short Illness.

*After an illness of only a few days, Green R. Keller, editor of the Carlisle Mercury, and Representative in the State Legislature from the Nicholas-Robertson District, died last night at his home in Carlisle, Wednesday evening, at 6:30 o'clock. He was one of the best-known newspaper men in this section of the State. Mr. Keller was stricken suddenly ill Tuesday afternoon. He was soon in a serious condition and his physician and relatives had no hope of his recovery from the start.

Mr. Keller was born in Harrison county on May 7, 1845. He was the son of Noah and Elizabeth Keller and received his education in the common schools to the county. For a number of years he was a resident of Paris and was identified with the newspaper business. He represented Bourbon county in the Legislature during the first administration of Governor James B. McCreary thirty-six years ago, and has been the Clerk of that body several times since. Last year he was elected as representative from the Nicholas-Robertson District.

Mr. Keller was the founder of the Cynthiana Democrat, which he subsequently sold and embarked in the newspaper business in Paris. His first venture here was Saturday Night, published first in 1876. Later he was engaged in the publication of a newspaper and in partnership with the late W. A. Johnson.

Mr. Keller, in connection with the late J. M. McCann in 1876 edited and published a history of Paris, which contained many interesting sketches of the early history of the city, and a copy of which is still preserved in the News office. In 1882 Mr. Keller purchased the Carlisle Mercury which he has owned and published ever since.

At the outbreak of the Civil War the sympathies of Mr. Keller went to the Southland. In September, 1862, he enlisted in Company C, Fifth Kentucky Cavalry, the company being formed by Capt. Harry Bedford. He was in the brigade of Gen. Buford, but was later transferred to the command of General John H. Morgan. Being brave and fearless he was always at the front in all of the engagements in which his command participated. He followed his leader through Kentucky, Indiana and Ohio, and was taken a prisoner at Buffington's Island where the command, overwhelmed by Union troops, surrendered after one of the most daring raids in the history of the struggle.

With his comrades, Mr. Keller was confined in a Northern prison for a period of fourteen months. Following the close of the war he returned to his native State. He has always been prominently identified with the interests of the Confederate Veterans and did much toward the establishment of the Confederate Home at Pewee Valley, and was also prominent in the efforts to secure a pension for the aged ex-confederates.

Mr. Keller was the Democratic nominee in the Third District in 1897 and was a candidate for the Democratic nomination for State Auditor before the Music Hall Convention in 1899. In 1870 he married Miss Fannie Holton, of Mason county. He was a member of Daugherty Lodge No. 65, F. and A. M., and of the Christian Church. The funeral services will be held at the home on Main street Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock, and the Masons and Confederate Veterans will have a prominent part in the services. He was the only surviving son of Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, of Cynthiana, who was an eighty-seven years of age, and who was at his bedside when he died. Two sons—Mr. Stanley Keller, of Carlisle, and Dr. Harvey Keller, of Louisville, also survive.

Work Progressing Rapidly.

Work of improving the room in the Schwartz building, at the corner of Sixth and Main street, which will be occupied by the Peoples' Bank, is progressing rapidly.

The work on the interior is being pushed and yesterday workmen began tearing away the brick front, which will be replaced with white brick, giving it an attractive appearance.

A call has been issued to the stockholders for ten per cent. of the amount of stock subscribed, to be payable Saturday. Mr. Blas Bedford, cashier of the bank, is ready to receive the money from the stockholders.

Nineteen Miles a Second

without a jar, shock or disturbance, is the awful speed of our earth through space. We wonder at such ease of nature's movement, and so do those who take Dr. King's New Life Pills. No gripping, no distress, just thorough work that brings good health and fine feelings. 25 cents at Oberdorfer's.

Thousands Attend Democratic Rally.

Yesterday was a glorious day for Kentucky Democracy, when thousands from all parts of Kentucky assembled at Lexington to attend the opening of the campaign. The hosts began to arrive early in the morning, special trains from all parts of Kentucky carrying large delegations, rolled into the Fayette capital.

Among the distinguished visitors who were heard on the speakers' stand were Speaker Champ Clark of the National House of Representatives; United States Senator Thos. P. Gore, of Oklahoma; Senator-elect Ollie M. James, Congressman Swager Sherley, Ben Johnson, J. Campbell Cantrell, A. O. Stanley, Gov. McCreary, Lieut. Gov. McDermott, former Congressman W. P. Kimball, John S. Rhea and others.

Bourbon county sent a large delegation to the gathering, it being estimated that four hundred Democrats took advantage of the opportunity to attend the rally, which was pronounced to be the greatest ever held in the State.

Headed by the High School Band, a large number went on the early morning cars, while each car following was crowded to the guards. The gigantic parade was the feature of the gathering, and after forming a march was made to Woodland Park, where the marching thousands found plenty to eat in the shape of barbecued meats and burgoo.

STOCK, CROP AND FARM NOTES.

—The attendance at the State Fair for the entire week was 98,430, an increase of 9,421 over last year.

—Owing to the prevalence of scabies and foot rot in Ohio, Live Stock Inspector William Mitchell, of Mason county, has received instructions not to allow any sheep from that State to cross the Ohio river into Mason county. Reports from the Ohio side of the river say that the disease is spreading, although it has not made its appearance in that county. Inspector Mitchell is keeping a close eye on shippers of live stock and has notified them of the quarantine.

—GEORGETOWN COURT — The News reports Georgetown court as follows: "Yesterday was 'mule colt' day in Georgetown and the number of colts on sale exceeded any former September court day for a number of years past. While a good many of the colts were unsold at the close of the day, yet the vast majority of them changed hands at fairly good prices. There was a scarcity of the real topky kind, and this class was brisk and sold at strong prices, bringing from $85 up to $115 per head. The second class mules brought from $60 to $75, while the common grade that found buyers were disposed of at from $45 to $55. There was about 250 head of cattle on the market. Anything with quality from calves to feeders, brought good strong prices, but the majority of the offerings were the 'foreign' kind, and on this kind the bidding was not so brisk."

Pacing Kings.

The Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders' Association seems to have done wisely in offering a guaranteed stake of $3,000 for pacers of the 2:05 class, for it is now almost certain that for the first time in 1912 there will be a meeting of the four cracks, viz: Joe Patchen 2nd, Batrden Direct, Jones Gentry and King Onward, the latter being the only horse that has defeated Joe Patchen 2nd during the season. Jones Gentry is unbeaten; Joe Patchen 2nd has lost but one race; Batrden Direct but one, and that through an accident, and many of the Canadian contingent stand ready to back the wonderful pony King Onward against any one of the three. This will certainly be a race among Kings, and moreover as the four Kings of the year have not yet met, the battle will be a royal one and worth going many hundred miles to see. This race and the Kentucky Futurity are carded for October, the first day of Lexington's great trots.
